John Finnemore : Cabin Pressure: Series 1 before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Cabin Pressure: Series 1:

Benedict Cumberbatch does comedy By Customer that smart, dry, silly British humor. you'll groan and laugh out loud. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Cabin Pressure follows the adventures of young, arrogant, ... By Bonnie TCabin Pressure follows the adventures of young, arrogant, Captain Martin Crieff, older, sarcastic, First Officer Douglas Richardson, plane owner Carolyn, and her son Arthur in their adventures around the globe. I was skeptical at first (who could possibly find humor in a story about an airline crew??), but I quickly became a fan after just one episode. There's loads of British humor here, and the characters (and storyline!) are wittily played. This series is, in a word, "Brilliant!" 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great example why I love British humor By Danielle Huffman-Hanni This show is so funny and a great example why I've always loved British humor even though I'm a Yank. I may not get all of the jokes but it doesn't matter. The delivery by everyone is just so spot on. I love how silly Douglas and Martin are in the cockpit from playing Simon Says to chopping off the last letter of a book title yet if I knew my pilots were doing this, I'd be nervous as a flyer. Arthur is such a sweet, happy dolt and his mom is the matriarch to this misfit group. Fly me to the moon for season 2!

Cabin Pressure is set in the wing and a prayer world of a tiny, one-plane charter airline; staffed by two pilots, one on his way down, and one who was never up to start with. Whether flying actresses to Italy, cricketers to the Sahara, or a cat to Abu Dhabi, no job is too small, but many, many jobs are too difficult. Carolyn Knapp-Shappey, MJN Air's formidable boss, has employed two of the very cheapest pilots money can buy: Captain Martin Crieff, who's always wanted to fly and won't let a little thing like lack of ability stop him, and First Officer Douglas Richardson, smooth-voiced old sky god and eternal schemer. Passenger service is provided by the relentlessly cheery Arthur, proud inventor of both Surprising Rice and his own hat. Written by John Finnemore (John Finnemore's Souvenir Programme, The Now Show), Cabin Pressure stars Stephanie Cole as Carolyn, Benedict Cumberbatch as Martin, Roger Allam as Douglas and John Finnemore as Arthur. 'Unexpectedly brilliant' - Time Out. 'An inspired new sitcom' Observer. 3 CDs. 2 hrs 48 mins.
