Dispensing auto knowledge and a lot of laughs, the duo of Click and Clack entertained thousands of NPR listeners. Though no longer on air, these "classic" moments bring a taste of the hilarity the two shared each week. Great for a long drive. 0 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Bonnie Cox Young can't wait to listen to it.

There may be an occasional flaw in the auto expert advice of brothers Tom and Ray Magliozzi, but the complaint box remains empty, with no factory recall in sight. The next entry in the ever popular Car Talk Classics series features four all time favorite Car Talk episodes, hand-picked by host Click and Clack, the Tappet Brothers, and presented here together for the first time. Car Talk continues to be one of public radio's most popular and laugh-inducing programs, with a weekly audience of four million listeners. Car Talk, winner of a Peabody Award, is broadcast each week to NPR stations nationwide. The world's wackiest call-in show, it mixes automotive advice with wisecracks, roadside philosophy, and guffaws. No problem is too ridiculous, no solution too absurd, and before you know it, "you've wasted another perfectly good hour listening to Car Talk." Or, in this case, four.
