David Mitchell, Robert Webb : That Mitchell and Webb Sound: Series 5: The BBC Radio 4 Comedy Sketch Show before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised That Mitchell and Webb Sound: Series 5: The BBC Radio 4 Comedy Sketch Show:

Skits carry over to other tracks. For example on Disc 1 Track 3 is the last 20 seconds of skit 2 and then a completely different skit. Track 8 is an entire skit, and then 40 seconds of the next skit. When listening to the CDs I didn't notice but when I ripped them to put on my phone and when I was applying titles I found out I need to correct the tracks as well. For example disc 1 is 2 episodes with 20 tracks total. Show one is 10 tracks. But there are actually 13 skits. And it's not just that some tracks have multiple short skits, oh no. Some skits are on 2 tracks. So I was forced to rip the CD, and re-cut the tracks. This was not the case with previous series. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Kristopher Ferreira Hilarious

Comedy from the lopsided world of David Mitchell and Robert Webb, with Olivia Colman and James Bachman. The radio sketch series which spawned BBC TV's That Mitchell and Webb Look returns with five brand new episodes. Among the topics given the unique Mitchell Webb treatment are the future of farming (battery penguins); Thomas

Hardy's exciting idea to make his books even sadder; the very confusing goings on in a cash-register shop; a horror story for slugs; the Escalator brothers inventing the worlds first horseless staircase; and the very last program the BBC ever does . . . Includes four episodes first broadcast on BBC Radio 4 in 2013, plus a bonus fifth episode first broadcast exclusively on BBC Radio 4 Extra.

"David Mitchell and Robert Webb have lost none of their comedy momentum." Radio Times
