

[Ebook free] That Mitchell Webb Sound: Radio Series Three (BBC Radio Program)

That Mitchell Webb Sound: Radio Series Three (BBC Radio Program)

From AudioGO

*Download PDF | ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks

Download

Read Online

#1965577 in Books 2010-05-11 Formats: Audiobook, CD, Unabridged Original language: English PDF # 3 .90 x 5.60 x 4.90l, .29 Running time: 10800 seconds Binding: Audio CD 1 pages | File size: 50.Mb

From AudioGO : That Mitchell Webb Sound: Radio Series Three (BBC Radio Program) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised That Mitchell Webb Sound: Radio Series Three (BBC Radio Program):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Laughing out loud alone in my car as I listen, and loving it! By Sopwith I bought this and MW's other radio series CDs because I loved their TV series "That Mitchell Webb Look," and also enjoy "Peep Show." I wondered how well their comedy would work without the visuals. Well, know what? It works just great! I listen to this while driving and am often laughing out loud, all alone, in my car. I see other drivers looking at me sometimes, and I don't give a toss! Whoopie, I'm a freak and I love it! (Their radio series actually predate their TV stuff, by the way, and some of the same characters and situations appear in both media, slightly altered depending on the format. I found it interesting to see how some of these sketches differed between TV and Radio. Told you I was a freak! Still loving it!) 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Kindle Customer Hilarious! I will be purchasing the whole set.

David Mitchell and Robert Webb star in the complete third series of their Sony Award winning comedy show, as heard on BBC Radio 4. The first two series of That Mitchell and Webb Sound gained an army of fans, huge critical acclaim, and led to a massively successful television series, That Mitchell and Webb Look. Here, the duo return to their radio roots, and this third fantastic series finds them in their finest sketch-show form. Meet the Stone Age flint-chippers who reckon bronze is just a fad; a very unpleasant man who wants to take you out for a little date; another thrilling adventure with Sir Digby Chicken Caesar; and the worlds most mismatched rally-driving couple. Whether sniping at citizen journalism, predictable radio plays or reality TV, here are lots of silly and clever sketches, with laugh-out-loud humor and painfully funny dialogue.

"The antidote to Peep Show withdrawal syndrome" -- Andrew Billen New Statesman
About the Author David Mitchell has been writing and performing comedy since his schooldays, when he and his friends would pen pages of sketches, though never put on a show. He studied History at Peterhouse, Cambridge; joined Footlights and soon became President of the society. It was there that he met Robert Webb. After graduation, Mitchell and Webb staged a number of two-man shows at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival before becoming freelance writers, contributing to comedy shows such as The Armstrong and Miller Show and Big Train. They acquired a growing following after writing and starring in Bruiser and That Mitchell and Webb Situation, and in 2003 they got their own BBC Radio 4 series, That Mitchell and Webb Sound. The second series was broadcast in 2005, and the show transferred to television as That Mitchell and Webb Look the following year. The duo also starred in the award-winning Channel 4 series Peep Show and the acclaimed BBC Two comedy Ambassadors, as well as appearing in The Bleak Old Shop of Stuff. In 2007, they starred in the film Magicians, and in 2009 they published This Mitchell and Webb Book. David's solo projects include guesting on panel games such as Have I Got News for You, Mock the Week and QI; co-presenting 10 O'Clock Live and writing an autobiography, Back Story (2012), and a collection of journalism, Thinking About It Only Makes It Worse (2014). Robert Webb grew up in Lincolnshire and studied English at Robinson College, Cambridge. He met David Mitchell when they both became members of Footlights, and from then on they collaborated in a number of comedy shows. Their first appearance as a duo was on Comedy Nation. They then wrote and appeared in their own show, That Mitchell and Webb Situation for satellite channel Play UK, before starring in two series of That Mitchell and Webb Sound on BBC Radio 4, four series of the BAFTA-winning That Mitchell and Webb Look on BBC Two, and nine series of the Golden Rose award-winner Peep Show. Robert's individual projects include starring in the 2006 film Confetti; winning Let's Dance for Comic Relief in 2009; playing Dan in the Channel 4 series Fresh Meat and acting as team captain on the BBC panel show Argumental.