From Peter Lang Ltd, International Academic Publishers : The Archers in Fact and Fiction: Academic Analyses of Life in Rural Borsetshire before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Archers in Fact and Fiction: Academic Analyses of Life in Rural Borsetshire:

If you have ever wondered about the ethical implications of Dr Richard Lockes affair with Shula Hebden Lloyd, or whether the ergonomic design of tractor seats could have prevented Tony Archer from getting a bad back, then this book is for you. Leading academics from across the United Kingdom use storylines from BBC Radio 4s The Archers to examine life in rural Dorsetshire, bringing their academic research to new audiences. Is Lynda Snell a middleclass warrior? Can Rob Titchener be compared to Iago? The irreverent but thought-provoking contributions will have you laughing and thinking.

About the Author Cara Courage is an urban arts and placemaking researcher and practitioner. Nicola Headlam is a Knowledge Exchange Research Fellow at the University of Oxford. Peter Matthews is a Senior Lecturer in Social Policy at the University of Stirling.
