Phil Rapp : The Baby Snooks Scripts before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Baby Snooks Scripts:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I Was Laughing Out Loud! By Sandra Grabman I was born too late to have heard the original Baby Snooks radio shows, so was experiencing it for the first time as I read this book. I loved it! Snooks' incessant questions and Daddy's frustration make great comedy! Even the commercials are in these scripts, and they take us back in time to when customers of its sponsor's coffee, Maxwell House, had to use ration coupons to get it. So here you have humor and history in one terrific book. It doesn't get much better than that.

The Baby Snooks Scripts! The first time in print, these old time radio scripts by Philip Rapp are taken from otr's golden age shows: Maxwell House Coffee Time, Good News, and more. These are not transcriptions, but the original scripts, sometimes vastly different from broadcast-draft scripts, since Rapp would often revise a script three times before it aired. "It's too funny to pass up. Phil Rapp's humor is still in style. Anyone can relate to Snooks' questioning of her poor daddy about - EVERYTHING. The problem child is back." - Laura Wagner/Classic Images
