Scott Young : The Boys Of Saturday Night before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Boys Of Saturday Night:

The Complete History of Hockey Night in CanadaBy DocAndrews@aol.comIf you grew up listening to Foster and Bill Hewitt, Danny Gallivan, Ward Cornell, Ed Fitkin and Jack Dennett, this book is must reading. Scott Young, the author played a large role in Hockey Night in Canada on radio on the Hot Stove portions of the broadcasts during intermission. He takes a loving look at Canada's highest rated program on CBC and probably in Canadian broadcasting history. Everything is in it from the politics with the Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs with the CBC and their choice of announcers to Esso gas station attendant, Murray Westgate's, "Always look to Imperial for the best!" tagline at the end of every hockey broadcast. Growing up watching Hockey Night in Canada in Detroit, (Windsor, Ontario was just across the border) we never knew why some changes were made on "HNIC," but now I do. I sure do miss Foster Hewitt doing the 3-star selection which were the two goalies, and Dave Keon!

Since its first radio broadcast in November 1931, Hockey Night in Canada has been a Canadian tradition. In The Boys of Saturday Night, author Scott Young, a veteran sportscaster and journalist, dives into the engaging history of Hockey Night in Canada as it has unfolded in the decades since hockey broadcasts began over eighty years ago. Young recounts memories and stories of those who made their names through Hockey Night in Canada, including Dave Hodge, Danny Gallivan, Scotty Bowman and, of course, Don Cherry, and reveals how Hockey Night transformed itself into a Canadian institution.
